

Current Future

Founding Statement:

A BEE company offering consulting services in the ICT sector, to plan and execute structured interventions to current situations with the objective of achieving a future desired outcome

Service offering:

With our combined expertise and associated network Current Future offers professional services in Information, Communication, Technology, product Sourcing, Development and Solutions packaging.

Value Proposition:

Through collaboration we source, manage, & package solutions for the Information Communication & Technology sector globally

About the Company:

Founding member offers 18 years of achievements in innovation and finding solutions using leading-edge technologies. Many years spent in a Research & Development environment became a useful learning experience which has proved invaluable in the approach to problem solving and dealing with technology challenges. Outstanding track record in project delivery of various technologies, locally and internationally.

Key strengths include managing teams in challenging environments to meet business/project objectives, strong technical abilities, exacting professional and personal standards, business acumen and excellent interpersonal skills with people of all levels and cultural backgrounds.

Current Future is committed to making a difference in South Africa to improve social and economic challenges where possible and to build capacity within the ICT sector from disadvantage communities.

Customer List:

We represent our clients to their customers. Refer our web page for projects completed.

Social Responsibility:

We support the SAHF (people with bleeding problems), improving health care for people in SA and around the world.

Web site www.haemophilia.org.za

Contact Details:

Bradley Rayner

+27 82 8826420

Glencairn

Cape Town

South Africa

Email: admin@currentfuture.co.za or Bradley@currentfuture.co.za

Web page: www.currentfuture.co.za